A Solution Incorporates Security Holograms with Digital Technology

CERT™ is an advanced authentication solution that blends security holograms and QR codes. It provides robust protection against counterfeit products in addition to offering easy access to a wealth of digital marketing content. By integrating CERT™ into your brand's strategy, you can effectively safeguard your brand assets and customers, while mitigating the financial and legal risks associated with counterfeiting.

With CERT™, you're not just preventing forgery — you're building a stronger, more trusted relationship with your customers.

Working with our CERT™,
you will benefit from:

1

Easy Verification

Along with the hologram's visual verification, the QR codes provide digital verification through a simple scan via smartphone.

EASY

2

Added Digital Marketing

With a quick scan, consumers can link to your website or social media platforms to access detailed information about the product and the brand.

MARKETING

3

Data Analysis

The digital data collected in the system will be available for analyzing customer engagement levels and product security.
